Online Shopping Service

An online service to search and buy goods in online shops, eBay auctions and coupon websites. The service provides a flexible system of discounts, features expanded locations and uses different payment systems.

Challenges for QA team

It was necessary to integrate the website with different payment systems and support multiple browsers and devices. A big flow of clients was expected that's why the system should be able to withstand a high level of load, especially during promo-events and sales. It should also support a big shop catalogue.

Testing results

Thanks to the QA team errors during heavy loads were detected in the app, which removal helped stabilize system operation. Stress testing allowed us to determine the user threshold and add additional resources.

Cross browser testing detected critical and average errors, which reduced the negative experience by users in different environments.
